ECCS's own employees: joining notice, appointment letter, staff handbook

What a new ECCS employee is told, asked for and asked to accept when they join.

Who	ECCS's Ops Manager, Supervisors and sales staff (not restaurant staff)
Where	ECCS web console: the employee's own "Joining ECCS" page
Who sees the file	The Super Admin (the founders) and the person. The Ops Manager sees only which steps are done.

ECCS's own employees (Ops Manager, Supervisors, sales staff) are not covered by the Privacy Policy, which says they get "a separate staff notice [to confirm]". Today the only notice is the short one on their "Joining ECCS" page, below. ECCS relies on the employment "legitimate use" (DPDP Act section 7(i)), so there is no consent form.

1. The notice on the joining page

JOINING ECCS PAGE, "WHAT ECCS KEEPS ABOUT YOU" (OPENED)

What: the details on this page, the documents you upload, your appointment letter and the handbook you accept. Of your ID, only its type and last 4 digits; never a whole Aadhaar number.

Why: to employ you and pay your salary, to keep the records the law asks of an employer, and for the security of the clients whose kitchens you work in.

Who sees it: the founders. The Ops Manager sees only which steps are done. A document sent back to you is deleted at once.

To see or correct it: change your details here, or ask a founder.

2. What the new employee is asked for

Details: Date of birth; Father's or mother's name; Current address; Permanent address; Emergency contact's name; Emergency contact's relation; Emergency contact's phone; Blood group; Uniform size; ID proof; Last 4 digits of the ID; PAN; Account holder's name; Bank account number; IFSC; Previous employer; UAN; ESI number; Highest education. Of an ID only its type and last 4 digits are kept; the form refuses anything that looks like a whole Aadhaar number. The bank account number and PAN are shown masked, but are not separately encrypted in the database.

ID proof	Best: the masked Aadhaar from myAadhaar, which shows only the last 4 digits
Address proof	Only if your ID proof shows a different address
Bank proof	A cancelled cheque or your passbook's first page, for your salary

Police verification certificate	Free at your local police station
Medical fitness certificate	From a registered doctor; clients' kitchens ask for it
Relieving letter	From your last job, if you have one
Education certificate	Your highest one

Also kept for each employee: their phone number (to log in), role, area, joining date, weekly day off, salary history and leave; for Supervisors, their visit check-ins with location, and the photos they take; for sales staff, their leads and follow-ups. Nothing is removed by itself when someone leaves.

3. The appointment letter (template, with example figures)

Made from the employee's record and the joining file, in the order of particulars the labour codes publish. The employee accepts it on their joining page with a click (or signs a printed copy); the app keeps the letter's version and a SHA-256 fingerprint of its text. An accepted letter never changes: a newer letter takes its place and the old one is kept.

Role	Category of skill	Nature of duties (as set now)

Supervisor	Skilled	Lead ECCS's cleaning and hygiene visits at clients' kitchens: direct and check the crew's work against ECCS's SOPs and task lists, use chemicals and equipment safely, record the work and photos in the ECCS app, and carry out scored inspections.
BDE	Skilled	Find restaurants that may become ECCS's clients and follow them up: visit them, log each lead and step in the ECCS app, carry out free hygiene checks with the scorecard, and send quotes at ECCS's prices.

4. The staff handbook (sample, version 1)

Accepted separately on the joining page; the letter makes it part of the terms. The app keeps the version accepted and a fingerprint of its words. This is a sample, to be replaced by ECCS's own.

ECCS staff handbook (sample)

A sample handbook, to be replaced by ECCS's own. It is short on purpose: read it before your first day, and ask a founder about anything that is not clear.

On clients' premises

- You work in other people's kitchens. Arrive on time for the visit's window, say who you are, and follow the kitchen's own rules on where you may go.
- Do not eat, drink, smoke or chew anything in a client's kitchen. Never take anything, even food that is to be thrown away.

- Leave the place as you found it or better: put back what you moved, and tell the kitchen's person in charge before you leave.

Safety and PPE

- Wear the uniform and the PPE the job needs: apron, gloves, goggles, mask and non-slip shoes. If any of it is torn or missing, say so before you start.
- Switch off and unplug equipment before you clean it. Never climb on a counter or a stool: use the ladder.
- Report every accident, cut, burn or near miss to the Ops Manager the same day.

Chemicals

- Use only ECCS's chemicals, at the dilution on the label. More is not cleaner; it is more dangerous.
- Never mix bleach with ammonia, or with acid cleaners. The fumes can kill.
- Keep chemicals in their own labelled bottles, away from food. The safety data sheets are with the Ops Manager and in the app.

Clients' confidentiality

- What you see and hear in a client's business stays there: their recipes, their problems, their people, their money.
- Never post photos or videos of a client's kitchen on social media. Photos are taken in the ECCS app only, for the visit's record.

Phone and app

- Record your work in the ECCS app as you do it: check in on arrival, tick the tasks, take the photos the app asks for.
- Do not use your phone for anything else while you work in a kitchen, except to call ECCS.

Attendance and leave

- Your working hours and weekly day off are in your appointment letter.
- If you cannot come, tell the Ops Manager before your visit's window starts. Ask for leave in advance where you can.

Respect at work and raising a complaint

- Treat everyone with respect: clients, their staff and your team. ECCS does not accept harassment of any kind, sexual harassment included.
- If anything worries you, at work or about how you are treated, tell a founder, in person or on WhatsApp. You will never be treated worse for raising a complaint.

5. The joining link

A founder sends the new hire a WhatsApp message from their own phone (ECCS's server sends nothing):

> Welcome to ECCS, Kiran. Before you join on Mon 2 Nov, please fill in your details, upload your documents and accept your appointment letter here: https://console.eosfera.in/joining . Log in with your mobile number and the one-time code.

Points for the lawyer

1. Is the short joining-page notice enough, or does ECCS need a full staff privacy notice (and, from May 2027, the DPDP Rule 3 items)? It does not mention Supervisors' location at check-in, or that staff photos may go to the AI provider.
2. How long should a leaver's file, documents (police verification, medical fitness) and salary records be kept? Nothing is removed by itself today.
3. The appointment letter follows the labour codes' published format but was written by an AI assistant: are its terms (probation, notice, overtime at twice the rate, leave, EPF and ESI "not applicable at present") right for ECCS?
4. Is click-to-accept on the joining page enough as the employee's acceptance of the letter and the handbook?
5. The bank account and PAN are not separately encrypted. Is that acceptable under SPDI Rule 8 ("reasonable security") for financial information?
